

COMPLETION OF RED CROSS ROLL CALL IN HOUR SUNDAY AIM OF CANVASSING TEAMS

City and Nearby Territory Divided into 35 Districts.

MULTITUDE OF WORKERS

Not Less Than Three on Team and Some Have Five or More; Meet at 2 O'clock at Y. M. C. A. for Instructions and Start Out Soon Afterward.

Connellsville is going its part in the Red Cross Roll Call in the same capable, well directed and patriotic way in which it did everything of the kind during the war. This was the opinion of the executive committee of the Connellsville branch expressed at a meeting held yesterday afternoon when the plan of conducting the campaign was completed in all its details. These comprise the division of the city and adjacent territory into 35 comparatively small districts and the assignment of a team of workers to each district. The organization was planned so that the entire territory can be canvassed within an hour and without making the work exacting upon any of the teams.

The teams will meet at the Y. M. C. A. at 2 o'clock on Sunday afternoon to receive final instructions and supplies of blank membership cards and report forms. After having completed a canvass of their districts they will return to headquarters where an auditing committee will receive and check up the returns and prepare the report. This committee consists of E. T. Norton, chairman, A. E. B. Hood, O. C. Harrison, J. C. Whiteley, Roy Tenbrink, J. D. Lambert, J. R. Westcott, Paul Kammerer, Carl Snader, Max C. Floto, G. M. Swartzwalder and James B. Stader.

Chas. T. J. Hooper of the Connellsville branch will have general charge of the campaign. He is confident the people of Connellsville will not allow the people of any other town in the county to surpass them in the ready and willing response they will give to the call to retain or take membership in the Red Cross. With this record we have to our credit," said Chas. Hooper this morning. "I have every confidence that the efficiency of this section will be both good and proud to have it made even better. This I know they will do."

Heart and Dollar Make One Member Of the Red Cross

Purpose of the Fourth Annual Roll Call of members for the Y. M. C. A. Red Cross chapter. It was explained this morning by Roll Call Chairman Earl S. Atwood at chapter headquarters in the Y. M. C. A. for the purpose of giving the people of the county an opportunity to endorse the work the chapter is doing on its peace-time program. Officials of the Red Cross want everybody to have a part in that work and reopening the chapter membership books affords that opportunity. By becoming members of the Red Cross it was pointed out the member in reality becomes a part of the chapter itself and has the satisfaction of knowing that the continuance of the great work the money organization is doing is made possible.

All that it takes is a heart and a dollar. A dollar makes the moving influence which has lured thousands of people in all walks of life to become actively identified with the Red Cross work.

It is the support of all the people who the Red Cross wants. An Atwood explained. "The dollar is the practical expression of that support."

As an indication of the vast amount of good the Payette County chapter has accomplished, Mr. Atwood last evening issued a statistical summary giving pertinent facts of Red Cross accomplishments. That summary showed that the chapter has secured the sum of $88,137.27 in government compensation for former service men, that allotments and allowances in the sum of $78,851.11 have been secured and that the chapter has assisted in the reinstatement of almost $1,000,000 worth of War Risk Insurance.

In the home service department alone the report showed the chapter has handled 2,532 cases, lending a helping hand to 8,517 persons. Relief workers have made 1,584 calls and in hundreds of cases brought relief where it was most sorely needed. Red Cross nurses have made a total of 4,900 visits.

TAKE CARE OF YOUR HEALTH

If Your Blood is Weak and Clogged With Poisons, Pepto-Mangan Will Strengthen and Purify It.

When you get over-tired day after day, your system has to get rid of so much waste it can't create new energy fast enough. The result is that your blood is filled with waste matter. It becomes clogged. You are trying to get around with a lot of poison in your system.

You look bad you feel poorly. You get out of patience easily. Ambition is lost. You just don't care about anything.

That is no way to live. Your blood needs help for a time. It is starved.
You will find help in that fine tonic, Pepto-Mangan. Pepto-Mangan purifies the blood and fills it with red corpuscles. In a little while you'll have plenty of rich, red blood and you won't know yourself. It isn't a magic medicine. It contains iron and other ingredients that feed starved blood and make it rich and red. Physicians have prescribed Pepto-Mangan for years.

Pepto-Mangan is sold in liquid and tablet form. Take either kind you prefer. One acts the same as the other.
Both contain the same ingredients.
But be sure to get the genuine Pepto-Mangan—"Gude's." The full name
"Gude's Pepto-Mangan," should be on the package.—Adv.

To overcome anything is harmful and it continues until wear out the strongest constitution. Overwork, worry, brain-dre, high living and excessive waste away the most vital elements of the blood and nerves—then disease sets in. At first there is general indisposition, poor appetite, nervousness, headache and weakness, the temper irritable, the spirits depressed and the memory poor, often leading to premature decline. Chase's Blood and Nerve Tablets assist nature by building up your blood and nerve forces. They make new, rich, red blood, which gives strength to the entire system.

The Dark Mirror

BY LOUIS JOSEPH VANCE
Author of "The False Faces,"
"The Lone Wolf," Etc.
Illustrated by Irvin Myers
(Copyright 1920 by the Author.)

Intuition linked the poles of fact and surmise, completing the circuit of conviction. Instantaneously, Leonora perceived with hideous clearness that Inez had planned this in revenge for the long series of deaths she had suffered in their rivalry, something for which Inez alone had been in the first instance responsible. It was Inez who had made Charlie hit the pipe too often, thus clearing the way for this supreme trick of treachery. This made it plain why Inez had not followed to the door to Mario's flat, but had climbed back to the roof and shut the trapdoor. Now Leonora no longer guessed; she knew Inez had gone straightway to tell Red that Leonora, refusing to answer his call, had taken refuge with Mario instead.

Beyond shadow of reasonable doubt, Red was even now on his way to make good his threats.

What if he were lurking in the hallways of the house, or in the dark of the street outside the door? And Mario going unsuspiciously to his death.

"Where's That D—n Wop?"

Perhaps it was not yet too late to scream a warning down the stairs. Madly Leonora ran to the door, tore with trembling fingers at the latch and threw it open—to find Red standing on the threshold, a shape of grim, bestial menace, his slender, feline body poised alertly, an automatic pistol in the hand at his right hip, an evil snarl twisting his cruel lips, murder in eyes whose glance shot directly past the girl to the room beyond.

Before she could lift a hand the man darted in, caught her arm and sent her reeling to the middle of the room and kicked the door to behind him.

She staggered against the table and caught hold of it to save herself a fall. Carnehan was at her side before any sound could issue from lips which his hard palm sealed brutally. His pistol nuzzled her bosom.

"One peep out of you?" he rasped. Crying eyes raked the room suspiciously. "Where's that d—n wop?"

VIII. CARNEHAN.

She tried to speak, but a dry mouth and a constricted throat refused their office. She could only shake her head, in dumb fright with pitiless eyes.

With a grunt of impatience, the monster released her, flung across the room in two cat-like bounds, stopping to peer in through the doors to bedroom and bathroom and satisfy himself that Mario was skulking in neither.

He came back at a slow prow, with staring mouth, his eyes and a mirthless grin. "Where is he?" He seized her arm in a grasp intentionally savage. "Why don't you answer me?"

Pain unsealed pale lips on which her whisper rustled: "I don't know."

That's a lie!

Her wrist suffered a more violent wrench. She cried out in protest: "Hush, Red! I don't know—hush! I don't know where he's gone. He went out just a minute ago—"

"What for?"

"He—he said he'd get me some dry things to put on. Mine's all soaked!" "Well—no grinning made the man's face terrible—then he'll be back before long. I'll wait—thanks!"

"For God's sake, Red—!"

"Ah—shut your trap!" He cast her a free, violently and stood back. "So you thought you could get Red Carnehan and get away with it? You little fool!"

He attempted no reply. The first

KEMPS BALSAM
WILL STOP THAT COUGH
GUARANTEED

spasm of consternation passing, the faculty of concentrated thought returned. She contemplated not the faintest hope of escaping her fate at the hands of Red Carnehan. Whether she lived or died, she conceived, didn't matter. But it was otherwise with Mario. Him she must save somehow, by some heroic exercise of wit and spirit.

Yet in the beginning she cast about in vain for ruse or wit that might serve. Alone, defenseless, in the company of a man armed and determined, murder in heart and mind; a man insane with jealousy and hatred, alike heart and hand; the fear of the assassin living moment by moment in the shadow of arrest; what could she do against such odds?

She could think of nothing, positively nothing. And yet, she knew, there must be some way out. If only she could find it.

She knew herself to be clever, far cleverer than Red—as she had once boasted to his face. Her wits had yet to fall her, however extreme or exigent the occasion. Give her time to think and she could circumvent him. But now the one essential element, time, was lacking. Impossible to guess how soon Mario might return. And then there was Red's impatience to be reckoned with.

Her look of a trapped animal faded; in its stead her face reflected concentration of thought amounting almost to abstraction. She seemed to consider Carnehan out of a fathomless composure, as she might one factor in an engrossing problem in whose solution she was vitally interested.

This change in her annoyed the man intolerably. Not only was any semblance of indifference offensive, but he had learned to distrust the girl's moments of thoughtfulness. If his intelligence was not of a high order, he had at least cunning, with acumen enough to feel and fear the inner melody of her mentality. Instinctively he sought an outlet for his exasperation in a burst of lurid blasphemy.

"When't you say somethin'?" he concluded, gesticulating wildly with the pistol. "What you standin' there for, dumb's a cat. Why't you try to come clean by leavin'?"

She responded, quietly: "What's the use? Even if I told you the truth it wouldn't do any good. You've made up your mind."

"You said M. I'm wise, and I've got you where I want you. If you think you can put anything over on me—well, try it. That's all I try to do. I wish you would."

She shrugged wearily, then inquired in tone of moderate curiosity: "Where's Inez waiting for you?"

"How'd you know?" He was obviously posed. "What's Inez got to do?"

"You know well enough it was her that told you I was here."

"Well... What if she did?"

"Nothing—only she brought me here first."

"Like hell!" "Yes—the girl ignored the interruption—I didn't even know where he lived, no more'n I knew where to look for you. So Inez framed me, just to put me in bad with you."

"Ah, tell it to Swagerty."

"Ask Charlie, if you don't believe me—ask him after he comes to. At Sing Ho's tomorrow. He'll tell you he promised to meet me there tonight and bring me to you. But when I got there Charlie was dead in the work. Inez said she'd show me the way to where you and Leo was hiding up; and when I said all right, she brought me here, left me at the door and blew. And then... What could I do? I didn't know where to find you and I was cold and wet and tired."

Her statement carried conviction. Against his wish the man believed her; and because it was against his wish he was the more irritated and chose to deny his belief. His glare was ugly.

"So that's the stall, is it?"

"You ask Charlie. Even tell you the truth—you needn't look to get it out of Inez—only he'll tell you too late."

"What do you mean, too late?"

"Too late to stop you making a d—n fool of yourself."

"How's that? How'm I goin' to make a—?" He fell out of himself.

"I don't know yet; but I hope you don't think you such a fat cat to think you've come here tonight just for a friendly talk."

"You're dead right, there!" His laugh rang with brutal scorn. "I'll see if I didn't come for friendly talk with him and you."

"Well... What did you come for?"

She confronted him with sullen, yet fearless eyes. His own shifted. He had little stomach for plain speech. The instinct of his hand was strong in him, to kill if he could, what he feared. But to declare his purpose openly in anticipation, to discuss it in cold blood with an intended victim, was more than he had bargained for. Instinctively resentful of such squeamishness in himself, he looked furtively aside, flicking his lips, and discovered the decanter of Madeira which Mario had left unstoppered on the table, after opening it for Leonora.

Carnehan obtained an ordinary drinking glass with the wine and drank it in one long draught, grateful for its pungent warmth, deluded by its mellow smoothness.

Now, Madeira may not wisely be taken on top of rye whisky. Conscious of reinforced bravado, the man leaned against the table, his back to it, leaning tranquilly.

"What did I come for? Oh, I dunno. What'd you think?"

"You've threatened me often enough, if you ever caught me with him again."

"He nodded in a heavy humor. "You get that right, kid. No girl of mine can mess me up for any stool pigeon or dick that ever lived."

"He isn't."

"And get away with it. You wait—you'll see!"

She shut her eyes. In spite of herself she shuddered. He laughed with gratification, and her eyes reopened of a sudden, passionately unafraid, seeking first the pistol in his hand, then his face.

"You're going to... kill me, Red?"

"I'll say I can."

In spite of his shamefaced smirk, he meant it in deadly earnestness. She had another shudder, but fought it down without releasing his gaze.

The rubber shoe that miners ask for

BUILT of tough, springy rubber—heavily reinforced at just the points where the wear is hardest—easy on the feet all day long—that's the U. S. Bootec.

These tough, rugged shoes are absolutely watertight. They're shaped on the famous U. S. Army last so as to fit the foot perfectly. The feltex innersole and the special friction lining mean solid comfort always.

But what miners like best is the wear they give. Week after week, month after month, U. S. Bootecs give you steady, reliable service. They'll stand the roughest sort of wear.

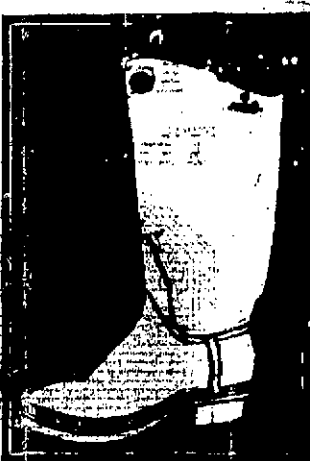

U. S. Bootecs are made by the oldest and largest rubber manufacturer in the world. They come in two styles—high and low. Ask your dealer to show you a pair.

Be sure to look for the U. S. Seal—it means solid wear and long service for your money.

After a minute she said: "Very well; I'm ready, only—"

He interrupted: "You're worse'n ready; you're in a hurry. His turn comes first, yours next. Get me?"

"But—she improved his credit with clamped hands extended—" tell you, you're wrong about him. Red, he hasn't got anything to do with the cops—honest to God, he hasn't!"

The Madeira was working powerfully. A flash of unvoiced insight visited his sudden intelligence. "You wouldn't be hangin' for that kid if you wasn't stuck on him. And that's enough. Bull or no bull, he ain't goin' to live to say he stole Red Carnehan's girl!"

"You're wrong, Red—you're all wrong," she protested wildly. "And anyhow, what good'll it do you? Don't you know you're just playing Inez's game?"

"Gee, Inez ain't nothin' to me."

"I know she isn't, and she knows it, too, and that's why. Don't you see? You turned her down for me and she's been crazy jealous ever since. Now she's out even with us both—gears are out at the way right off the bat and sends you to the chair for it. My God, Red! Don't you trust that bell-cat, do you? Don't you know she's only waiting to fix things safe for Leo before she squeals on you?"

"Ah, forget it!" That, together with more profanity, alienated her. "Let me and Inez alone. Maybe I did pass her up for you; but that's a long time ago and she's forgot all about it by now. She don't think of nobody but Leo."

"If you believe that, you're as big a boob as she thinks."

"Maybe—but not as big as you, you think." Carnehan emptied the decanter into the glass and pulled it toward him, his hand steady, his eyes fixed on Red. "Most anybody I'm wrong for can fool me once, but not even you can fool me twice."

"Inez has."

"Inez?—Inez, whom, he secretly detested, looking at her with a stare of incredulity. "What's she got to do with this?"

"She's the one told you about Mario—let me tell you, I was seeing him off—right in the street."

"What?—in the street, and then only in a passing time of day? But you'd like to make a word instead of mine, wouldn't you?"

Senreco
The double-service tooth paste, keeps teeth clean AND GUMS HEALTHY.

Keeping the gums healthy and the mouth sweet is very important to health; more teeth are lost through the loosening of the tissue that holds the tooth in place than from decay.

Dental science to-day demands that a tooth paste must keep the gums healthy as well as clean the teeth.

Senreco was formulated to meet this requirement. Hinder is of dental hygiene and using Senreco because they have found that it does measure up to that standard.

SENRECO IS A WONDERFUL CLEANSER.

In addition to its remedial properties Senreco is a wonderful cleanser. It acts directly on the mucin film, the basis of tartar; leaves the mouth cool and clean-feeling. As some one has expressed it—Senreco gives one a new idea on mouth cleanliness.

Get a tube to-day at your druggists or toilet counter—enjoy the healthy, clean feeling its use gives your mouth and gums. Notice how brilliant white Senreco makes your teeth. It performs this two-fold service, for you and your teeth, no more than the ordinary, old-fashioned tooth paste, but simply cleans the teeth and leaves a pleasant taste.

WITH NEW CONFIDENCE IN ABILITY TO PLAY, COKERS
PREPARE FOR WILKINSBURG

Locals Expect to Hand Holy City Team a Tolt on Saturday Morning.

GAME HERE TOMORROW

While it is late in the season, the Connelville High football players seem to have taken a new hold on the Wilkinsburg game Saturday for a victory. There will be quite a delegation of rooters from this city at the game, as many who intend to go to the Pitts-
W. & J. set to in Pittsburg in the afternoon will stop at the Holy City in the morning to see the Cokers go up against one of the strongest combinations in the Pittsburg district.

There was a good turnout at last night's rehearsal. Coach Rupp told the men on Monday that if they did not have enough interest in the success of this team to get out for practice every night, he would fill all their places with second string men.

Some griders, who will need all the wind they can show in the endurance test at Wilkinsburg Saturday, are evidently forgetting their training rules. Too bad a player can't keep his head when he is placed on his knees by Coach Rupp.

Connelville High played Morgan town High to a 0-0 tie at the West Virginia city last Saturday.

Connelville Township High is without a game for Saturday. West Newton High cancelled.

The Perardos, the local independent football team, plays tomorrow at 2:30 o'clock at Fayette Field at 3:30 o'clock. The team meets the Westmoreland-Olympics. As a general half holiday will be celebrated in the city in observance of Armistice Day a big crowd is expected to attend.

The members of the Connelville football team may be on hand in Wilkinsburg Saturday morning to root for their ancient rivals—Connelville—in the game against the Holy City team.

Washington High is anticipating making the Thanksgiving Day crowd at Fayette Field the largest of the season.

STAR BOUT NEXT MONDAY; ANOTHER NOVEMBER 27

According to the many requests of local business men for a week-day show aside from Saturday night to enable them to see the contests being staged in Slavish hall under the auspices of the Fayette A. C., the local club has a set of corking good boxing bouts arranged for next Monday night. In the star feature bout of 10 rounds, Tommy Ryan of McKeesport, the belter of champions, will meet Chalky Wampler of Fairhaven, a hot Connelville favorite.

Ryan is rightly named "The Baiter of Champions" inasmuch as he has met and defeated Frankie Mason, the fly-weight champion of America, and "Bad News" Eber, the Canadian bantam-king, and fought Carl Tremaine of Cleveland off his feet in a 15-round go, taking the contest on with only 24 hours' notice.

The semi-final will be no less important than the star bout, as it will bring together Billy Carter, the local heavy-hitting, slam-bang glove wielder, and Eddie Carver, the fast and clever Pittsburger. These boys are both negroes. Carter positively must win this bout on his day as a drawing card will be done in the boxing game.

Johnny Pollock, the new sensation in local boxing circles, in a six-round tilt with Young Piazza, the heavy-hitting "woop" of Pittsburg, will open the show. The fight will be of the heavy-hitting kind of the old school of fighting. Tickets for the contests are now on sale at various places in the city.

REFEREE STAYS OUT OF RING IN BOXING

Salient Feature of New Intercollegiate Rules.

There Are No Other Very Distinct Innovations in Code as Drawn Up by Committee—Method is Used in Other Countries.

The new rules for intercollegiate boxing were drawn up by a committee consisting of Doctor McKenzie as chairman, Maj. M. J. Ploer as secretary, and Commander F. A. Richardson, U. S. N., of the Naval academy; Hugo Reideck of the Pennsylvania State college, Dr. Allen Winter Rowe of Massachusetts Tech., Prof. Francis W. Menefee, Yale, and Dr. Paul Whittington, Harvard. The committee decided to take as a guide the rules which were drawn up in 1918 by the war department commission on training activities and which were used during the war in the army and navy with great satisfaction and success. There are no very distinct innovations in the rules except the keeping of the referee out of the ring. This was a matter on which there was quite a sharp division of opinion in the committee, but it was finally decided to at least try it out. It is the method used in the National Sporting club in London and to a great extent in England, Canada and other countries. There was also considerable discussion as to the proper weight of the gloves and this was finally decided at ten ounces. The question of "give and take" as to weights in the various classes was another matter for great consideration and it was finally decided that in all classes except heavyweight a contestant must weigh not more than four pounds over or under his weight. This decision is based on the desire to secure as near as possible equality in weight and to encourage a large number of candidates rather than have a man box in more than one class and at the same time allow enough leeway so as to endeavor to protect a contestant from "training down" too much below his normal poundage. The committee also approved the rules originated at the University of Pennsylvania prohibiting any kind of applause or cheering during the progress of a round and allowing only students ad seconds.

MADE PRIZE BONEHEAD PLAY

Credit Given to Miah Murray, Catcher of Wooster Club—Story Told by Banerett.

Frank Banerett, business manager of the Cincinnati Reds and pilot of the 1884 champion Grays, declares that the prize bonehead play was by Miah Murray, who was catching for his Wooster club 36 years ago. With a runner on first, Murray made a wonderful catch of a foul fly against the stand. The crowd broke into roar of applause and Murray, doffing his cap, bowed right and left. The runner, mistaking the situation, lit out from first, kept right on running hard, and came all the way home while the crowd was waving and screaming all in vain.
